Dermatopathology: Diagnosis by First Impression, 1st Edition

By Christopher Ko and Ronald Barr

- The first book to differentiate between 200 of the most common visually similar diseases for dermatologists, pathologists and trainees
- Clearly demonstrates problems faced with over 500 high quality, full colour images
- Presented from a trainees perspective offering an easy to follow format
- The use of low and high magnification images is particularly useful to aid diagnosis under less than optimum conditions

This invaluable resource for dermatology and pathology trainees, dermatologists, pathologists and medical trainees.
